DYER'S DEFENSE OF NEGROES CHAMPIONED BY MARTIN B. MADDEN

Congressman From Chicago Says Immigration Law is Unjust Measure Against Most Loyal People in World's History. Bill May Cause International Complications

The colored people of St. Louis and of the whole country remember the great speech made for them in the United States Congress on February 19, 1914, by Honorable L. C. Dyer. This speech was made by Congressman Dyer at the time the Immigration Bill was being discussed in Congress. That speech was published in full in our paper some months ago. It also has been published in the leading colored papers all over the United States. Mr. Dyer was unseated on June 19th last by a brutal partisan Democratic majority. However, the people of the 12th District re-elected him by a large majority last November and he will take his seat again in the next Congress on the 4th of the coming March. Since June 19th last and until the 4th of March he has defended his seat, and a Democratic majority has elected, in this surprising manner. During the rest of this Congress and until the 4th of March Mr. Dyer does not have a voice, but when the Immigration Bill came back to the House from the Senate a few days ago, Congressman Madden, a Republican from Chicago, took Mr. Dyer's place in defense and in praise of the colored people. Likewise was the Democrats who again attacked the race. The occasion of this renewed debate in Congress upon the Immigration Bill grew out of the fact that while it was pending in the Senate an amendment was added to it depriving our race of being permitted to immigrate to the United States. The amendment was leaving the United States and returning. The one who championed and introduced this unjust amendment to the Immigration Bill was United States Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, also a Democrat. The main purpose was to insult and humiliate our people.

Below we publish the speech of Congressman Madden:

"Mr. Speaker, beginning on line 8, page 8, of H. R. 6060, the Immigration Bill, passed by the House at the last session of Congress and reported to the House from the Senate on Tuesday, provides—

"That after four months from the approval of this act, in addition to the aliens who are by law now excluded from admission into the United States, the following persons also be excluded from admission thereto, to-wit: All members of the African or black race."

"This language would seem to make it impossible for a Negro, a citizen of the United States, to re-enter this country if he happened to be abroad for any reason.

"This is the most drastic legislation I have ever seen proposed. It is a discrimination of a kind that can not be justified.

"Mr. Speaker, the possession of power should be used with great caution. We ought to use power only when it is necessary. Men who have power can afford to be just. It would be unjust beyond measure to adopt this amendment to the Immigration law. One-tenth of the American people are of the black race, and no people in all the world's history has ever been more loyal to a Government than have these people to this. (Applause.)

"No other race numbering 10,000,000 of the nation's population would submit to the indignities that have been imposed upon these people. Under this amendment citizens of African blood would be excluded from the right to return to America's shores. They have lived here for 250 years. They did not come here of their own accord. They have fought in every battle in which the nation has been engaged. They have given their life blood for the preservation of the Union; they fought at New Orleans with Gen. Jackson, and in the Civil War 350,000 of these men volunteered that the Nation might be saved. They fought in 449 engagements, and left 38,000 on the field of battle, in order that we here today might live in a country protected by a single flag. (Applause.)

There are not many of these people who come from abroad, not more than 5,000 a year, and most of them are English subjects. It is a question whether, if you adopt this amendment, you are not going to bring this country into international complications.

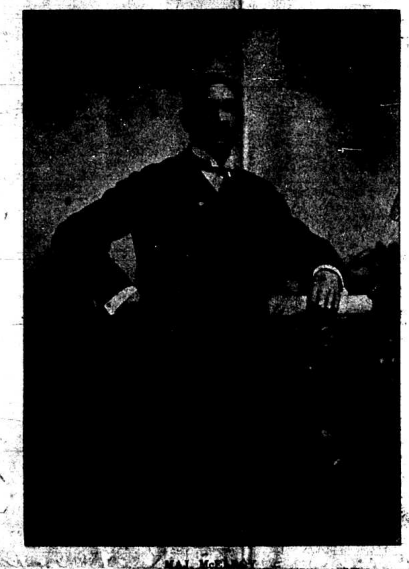

The amendment operates against Christianity. American missionaries are sending large sums of money abroad in order that they may educate and Christianize the people of Africa, and they frequently select young men and young women to come to America to be educated, in order that they may go back home and educate their own people. If this amendment is adopted, they can no longer, and we would have put our stamp of approval on the lack of opportunity to a down-trodden race of people whose loyalty to the Government has never been questioned.

America has always made the proud boast of being just to the down-trodden of all the world. Gentlemen, only a short time ago we passed a law in this House to give self-government to the Filipinos. We are to be less just to the Negro, a race of people who have stood by the Government under which we live and for which we are fighting. We are to be less just to the people of the earth than we are to the people of the United States. We are to be given equal opportunity with every other race to come here. They are loyal and law-abiding, and have made more progress since the beginning of the century than any other people in all history. They are engaged in all the pursuits that make for prosperity, they are engaged in agriculture, in banking, in the manufacture of goods, in everything that makes the country great, and yet you, by the adoption of this amendment placed in the Immigration law by the Senate would exclude the people of America's blood, and thereby humiliate 10,000,000 loyal American citizens and place the stamp of inferiority upon them. I plead with you, Members of the House, to open your hearts and do the thing that is just and justice in this case can not be meted out except by the defeat of this amendment. Surely the American Congress is too great, too sympathetic, too just to do such a thing. (Applause.)

The above speech of Congressman Madden, as taken from the Congressional Record, word for word, of date Jan. 7. We publish it to show the benefit to be had by selecting such men as L. C. Dyer and Martin B. Madden to represent us in Congress. The bill referred to was passed by a Democratic House and Senate and is up to the President for his signature. Congressman Madden of Mississippi made a damaging reply to Mr. Madden and was supported by Borland and Reed of Kansas City.

Oldest G. U. O. Lodge of Missouri Reports Continued Success. Does Much Charity Work. Have $2,301.47 Cash Balance

The annual election of the Perseverance Lodge No. 1765 was held December 2, 1914.

One of the oldest Grand United Odd Fellow Lodges of Missouri reports continued success, among one of the many good deeds done by them, they do a great deal of charity work. Chas. At the election held on the above date Brother Wm. J. Floyd was elected treasurer. This being the fifth consecutive time, it being needless to say that his duties were well performed. His past record speaks for itself.

Henry Moseley was unanimously elected for the tenth consecutive time as permanent secretary, he also should be congratulated for his conscientious work.

The last financial statement of this lodge shows a balance on hand of $2,301.47, same being on deposit in two banks, $60.90 being in hands of the treasurer, all debts paid.

PYTHIAN CADET & ODD FELLOWS' BAND'S TO GIVE CONCERTS

The music loving public will have an opportunity to attend a series of band concerts at the Pythian Hall Sunday afternoons, beginning Sunday, February 7. The Pythian Cadet Band, under the leadership of Col. Hughes, and the Odd Fellows' Band, under Major McElroy, will furnish the programs. Eight concerts are to be given, the first by the Odd Fellows' Band and the following Sunday by the Pythians, playing alternately. These two bands have accomplished much in the way of musical progress.

St. Louisans are just beginning to appreciate the value of their work and the enlightening influence it has had upon our boys. Probably no institution deserves more encouragement, and it is safe to believe that large crowds will attend each concert to show appreciation. The boys have shown that they mean business, and every parent who has the coming generation at heart should encourage the idea. Go to the Pythian Hall, Sunday, February 7, and give the opening concert a grand send off.

St. Louis' Two Big Musical Organizations Will Play at Pythian Temple Auditorium In Eight Sunday Concerts Beginning Feb. 7. Should Be Encouraged by Large Attendance.

NEW MARCH AS A COMPLIMENT TO JAS. W. GRANT

The Big Band Concert for the Furlana-Tango, at the Coliseum, Monday evening, February 8, will open with a new march entitled, "The Old Campaigner," specially written for and dedicated to his friend, Jas. W. Grant, by Bandmaster William Blue. The composition opens with a trumpet fanfare, counteracted by a brief syncopation into a brilliant melody. A continual fiery strain interwoven throughout the first part closes with a dominant pause, something unusual in march music. This part describes the various vicissitudes in the ups and downs of life. A trio, which follows with a waltz interruption, is led by the bass section. The composition closes with the Song of Triumph, sung with a grand union.

The Bath of Christ in the Soul

By Rev. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D.
Dean of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—My little children, of whom I travel to baptize, whom I have brought in to you—Galatians 3:27.

I go out of the baptism pool in this Christmas message, and called to contemplate the birth of our Savior into the world.

It would apply the event to his birth into the individual life. Opportunity is not afforded for enlargement on the meaning of the text, but it suggests that the birth of Christ into the world is the experience of man is a process of three steps which must be formed in their understanding and in their will, but especially in the affection which mold their character and conduct.

Their understanding is reached in the preaching of the Word of God, but their will and affections are moved only as the power of the Holy Spirit accomplishes that Word. This explains why there is such preaching and teaching of the Bible, and so little effected in the conversion of souls.

Christians need to pray for their pastors, for the Sunday school teachers of their children, and, above all, for themselves, that the union of the Holy One may rest upon them as they witness for Christ, that their testimony may beget in others the new life through faith in him.

The Second Adam.

It is the text suggests that the birth of Christ in the soul would be impossible had not Christ himself been born into the world.

Our natural man could have no existence without a natural progenitor; and this is equally clear of our spiritual or regenerated man. Why is Christ called in Scripture the second Adam?

It is not that he was, so to speak, a starting point for man, the pure spirit of a redeemed race? This does not mean merely that he was the purest, noblest and best man who ever lived, but that his humanity he was much more than any other man from Adam down. In a certain sense, humanity was reborn in him.

Rebirth begins by a new birth in the race which includes all men, at least to the degree that each of us is potentially all that all men need. There is now a chance, which never before for the incarnation of Christ never before had been, that each of us may become regenerated and begin our life over again.

But in speaking of the humanity of Christ, it must be kept in mind that in his person there was united the two natures, the human and the divine. Christ was man, but also he was God. We are unable to understand this mystery, but we accept it by faith on abundant testimony, while we adore and praise him that of his fullness all we may receive, and grace for grace.

Birth of Christ in the Soul.

It is written that the Holy Ghost was instrumental in the birth of Christ into the world, so it is necessary to the birth of Christ in the soul. The virgin could have given birth to the Son of Man had not the Holy Ghost come upon her and the power of the highest overshadowed her, and it is written that the Holy Ghost came upon her as the Lord but by the Holy Ghost.

As the great Puritan divine, John Owen, used to say, "We can have no real degree of conformity to Christ unless we have their eyes who beheld his glory." But how shall we obtain those eyes if they are not given us from above? The natural man beholds no excellency in Christ, and appreciates no need of a Savior, until these experiences are begun in him by supernatural power and grace. We have referred to this before but it needs to be emphasized again and again.

IV. Finally, as the birth of Christ into the world marks the most important era in the world, so the birth of Christ into the soul is the most important era in the soul. It is this which turns the believer "from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God." No converted man would change his experience of salvation and the indwelling Christ for all the world could give him. It is this fact that makes the Christmas time a time of sadness as well as one of happiness and joy, we shrink from it as we think of the King of Terrors by ordering in his ministry, but his dying breath. There is no Christmas joy a believer in Christ so earnestly covets as to learn of some one who, as a result of his ministry, has been interpreted by the Christian in the earth from the point of view of a Christmas in the soul. While it is the work of the Holy Spirit to perform this, the Christian in his will, yet it is his duty to yield him to him that he may perform it.

SWET TOOTH SUGARS

CONFECTIONS OF FINE FLAVOR, THAT ARE REMINISCENT.

Old, but Very Good, These Little Tit-Bits Which Most of Us Find a Pleasure in Between Real Meals.

Date cakes are novel and good. Take one pound of dates, one-half pound of English walnuts, the same quantity of figs and the white of one egg to make three cups of sugar, a tablespoonful of flour, mix with the stiffly beaten white of the egg and bake in small drop-cakes.

Peanut Cakes.—Peanut trips are a fine substitute for the usual tea cakes. Shell a quart of peanuts and chop them fine. Add one cupful of powdered sugar, a tablespoonful of flour and the whites of two eggs. Beat up lightly and drop in spoonfuls on a buttered pan and brown in a moderate oven.

Lemon Wafers.—Lemon wafers and orange wafers are made of the same manner. Cream a cupful of butter with two cups of sugar, add one cup of two beaten eggs. Squeeze the juice from a large lemon and grate the rind. Add this to a stiff cupful of cold water and mix with the other ingredients. Then put in enough flour to make a dough stiff enough to roll. Roll very thin, cut in rounds or other shapes, and bake.

Money Candy.—To make honey candy, put half a pound of honey into a saucepan, add half a pound of sugar, one tablespoonful of cream and a dash of salt. Bring to a boil, then mix and stir well. Allow to stand for one hour. Pour over a moderate heat and cook, stirring gently until it is stiff enough to pull. Pour into buttered tin. When cool enough to handle pull and cut into small pieces.

Caramels.—This recipe is very old and very good. Mix two cupfuls of chocolate, two cupfuls of milk, two cupfuls of molasses, two cupfuls of brown sugar and two-thirds of a cupful of butter together. Boil until it hardens in water; but just before it hardens stir with vanilla.

Roast Rabbit.

Empy, skin and thoroughly wash the rabbit. Dry and line the inside with sausage meat and forcemeat (the latter of bread crumbs, well seasoned and soaked up). Sew the stuffing in place, skewer back the head between the shoulders, cut off the fore joints of the shoulders and legs, bring them close to the body and secure them by means of a skewer. Wrap the rabbit in buttered paper, keep it well basted, and a few minutes before it is done remove the paper, pour and broil it and let it acquire a nice brown color. It should be done in three-quarters of an hour. Take out the skewers and serve with a sauce of cream and red currant jelly. To bake the rabbit proceed in the same manner as above; in a good oven it will take about the same time as roasting. Most cooks serve a rabbit with slices of lemon and serve up with currant jelly. Sometimes the head is cut off before sending to the table, but this is a matter of individual taste.

Lemon and Orange Tart.

Grated rind and juice of one lemon, one-half cupful of butter, scant cupful of sugar, two eggs. Cook in double boiler till thickened, bake in puff paste shells without boiling over.

Orange Tartlets.—Grate the peel of one, add the juice of two oranges, one-half to three-quarters cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of cornstarch wet with one tablespoonful of lemon or raspberry juice, one egg. Beat well and bake in puff paste.

The Cranberry Tart.

We are all more or less familiar with cranberry tarts. Sometimes the tart shells are filled with plain sauce, and sometimes with a cranberry sauce. A cupful of seed and chopped raisins may be added by way of variation. Whole berries cooked in sirup may be used as a meringue top. If the uncooked berries are used they should be mashed and well sweetened before being placed in the crust. It requires from forty-five minutes to an hour to thoroughly make the tarts in this case.

Mushroom Stuffing.

Add a small cupful of chopped mushrooms to a similar quantity of fine breadcrumbs, one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion, a teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley, a half of powdered thyme, a pinch of lemon rind and a small portion of onion. Mix all thoroughly, then fry in boiling fat, and use as a stuffing for marrow, tomatoes or large onions.

New Silver Polish.

Common lumpy sugar, powdered, makes a very good silver polish. Rub it on with a wet cloth, leaving it until dry, then polish with a chambray.

For a Musty Smelling Room.

To remove a bad smell in a house a dried orange peel allowed to smolder on an old shovel is excellent. It leaves a fragrant odor behind.

To Sponge a Silk Dress.

Water in which potatoes have been boiled is the best thing with which to sponge and revive a silk dress.

To Sweeten Soup.

To sweeten soup that has soured, add a pinch of soda and a little sugar. Boil a quart of soup.

Break eggs one into another bowl, do not beat them.

Cover a waiter with a big sheet of paper; sift four cups of flour over it, and the fruit and the following: three one-half cups each of nutmeg, mace and cinnamon, one tablespoon each of cloves and allspice.

Beat these together and stand aside ready to use. Have ready in a little pitcher one-half pint best brandy. Select a deep cake tin and grease with butter. Line the tin with white paper.

When the eggs are all used, turn in the four and fruit with brandy, mix thoroughly, pour into the prepared cake tin, cover with several layers of brown paper and bake eight hours, keeping the oven steady and clear.

Remove from the oven and allow it to stand on tin sheet until quite cold. Ice with a thin coat of white icing top and sides and stand in a cool oven to dry, then give it a second coat.

When the cake is dry, according to fancy, An icing made of white egg, a few drops of cold water and confectioner's sugar is the best for the thick icing.

BEFORE THE HEAVY COURSE

Some Delicious Appetizers That Are Not at All Hard to Acquire or Prepare

The hors d'oeuvre is not much used by private families in America, but a diet of all the things used will admirably set off a modest meal.

For oysters or clams, cooked or raw, two or three boiled serving chop, two or three salted very fine and put them in a saucet dish with salt, pepper, vinegar and oil. Pass this around with the shell and the oysters or clams.

For holding the sauce. Another excellent hors d'oeuvre can be made of one green pepper, several slices of tomato, cut in thin slices, and a slice of tomato. Peel the tomato and denude the pepper of seeds. Then cut the last in the shreds, putting these on top of a slice of tomato in turn on a slice of tomato. But do this individual arrangement after the vegetables have marinated in a dressing of olive oil, lemon juice or vinegar and salt and pepper. Anchovies, preserved in oil, are famous appetizers, and they are served as they come on a little dish with hard-boiled eggs chopped fine, capers and minced parsley.

A Chef Suggests:

That small pieces of chicken with the meat bit of its own liver pounded up with some cream and a little corn, makes a delicious paste to spread on this slice of brown bread.

Before attempting to seed raisins cut them in half with a sharp knife and stand in minutes; then the seeds can be removed easily without any waste.

Left-over cooked potatoes should not be piled together, as they will sour quickly; spread them out on a large dish.

A teaspoonful of curry powder added to the cream sauce in which macaroni is baked greatly improves the flavor.

Save Worn Table Cloths.

Probably you are convinced that you are practicing all the economies known to the up-to-date housekeeper, but have you ever turned inward the outer edges of a half-worn tablecloth?

It is done exactly as a wide sheet of paper is made, and if the seams are carefully folded down on the wrong side of the damask, the joining will never show.

Stand up the tablecloth you have decided to cut up for napkins.

Golden Cream Cakes.

One cup of milk, two tablespoons cupful butter creamed together, one-half cupful sweet milk and the beaten whites of three eggs, one and one-half cups of sugar, one-half level teaspoonful baking powder. Bake ten layers.

For Filling.—Folks of three eggs, one-half cupful sugar and two tablespoons cupful thick cream beaten together until very light. Flavor with vanilla. These are very good.

Sugared Popcorn.

Make a sirup by boiling together two cups of water. Boil until it is as thick as honey.

THE QUESTION OF BREAD AND WORK

The Federal Government is about to open a labor bureau and make an effort to secure work for the unemployed. This is a step in the right direction.

Every moral and industrious man and woman in this country has the right to enough to eat and has the right to labor. We lay that down as a principle, no matter what political or social theory it may seem to contradict.

If in all this land there is a moral and industrious man or woman who has not enough to eat, it is because somebody else has more than his share. God spreads His table three times a day all around the earth, and there is plenty on it for the fourteen hundred millions of the human race; and more than plenty for the ninety odd millions in these United States. But the trouble is that a greedy few seize the platters of meat, and the dishes of fruit and the plates of bread, and having satisfied their own hunger, they put the rest into their pockets, leaving thousands to rise from God's table unfed.

Just so long as a few thousand families own most of the land, and a few thousand individuals control most of the money, and a few corporations control most of the labor of this land, there are going to be a great many people without work and without food.

So we are glad that the Federal government is showing some interests in the matter. It is a big question and if Uncle Sam cannot, or will not settle it, there is one Being in the universe who can, and settle it He will. The politicians North and South were busy dozens of years, studying how to get rid of American slavery; and they discussed, and argued and figured, and accomplished nothing. Then God rose in His majesty to settle the question and the work was done. But one million five hundred thousand brave men dropped in their graves.

Whether it will call for a greater or a less sacrifice of human life, or no sacrifice at all, to settle this question of hunger and no work, we cannot tell. But this we do know: that if somebody does not settle it soon, the Almighty will.

Hunger is a dangerous thing to have around. It is a wild beast that cannot be chained by promises and investigating committees and council. It wants bread. It does not ask for charity, but work.

The ladies and gentlemen of the reign of Louis XV. and Louis XVI of France, sat in their gilded Salons discussing in beautiful phrases, the rights of man. But they discussed too long. The angry, hungry mob broke open the doors and the discussion ended in blood. History has a way of respecting itself!

ANOTHER SUGGESTION

We learned that Prof. Spingarn was in the city a few hours, several days ago, between trains. The fact recalls his appearance, just a year ago, under the auspices of The National Association for the advancement of Colored People. The masterful address, the great crowd and the high enthusiasm of the occasion will all be well remembered.

We sometimes wonder whether our people appreciate the splendid work done in our behalf by this Association. The speaking tours of Prof. Spingarn alone are a credit to the organization; and the quick and vigorous action in connection with the Immigration Bill last week deserves our lasting gratitude.

But how much better it would be if we ourselves, both in St. Louis and elsewhere, were more energetic in advancing our interests. It is a sign of selfishness and indifference to delegate the care of our welfare to an organization more than a thousand miles away.

We hope to see the day dawn soon when the Negroes of St. Louis will form a local organization—such as a Social Service Bureau—to safeguard our rights and further our interests right here in this city.

We would like to see a federation of The Negro Business League, The Forum Club, The Ellardsville Civic League, The Ministerial Alliances, and all similar organizations—each maintaining its own identity and independence, yet all together supporting a central Bureau to care for every Negro interest.

That is over, and then act.

SALOONS AND THE POLICE

Under the above heading, one of the evening papers refers sarcastically to the Republican Legislature at Jefferson City who opposed the proposal to give St. Louis more policemen. His opposition was based upon the argument that if the policemen in the outskirts of the city would keep out of saloons and stay at their posts there would be no need of more police.

It is not our purpose to discuss the editorial in this evening paper. We merely express our surprise that the gentleman at the Capital limited his criticism to the police in the outskirts. The writer is speaking well within the bounds of truth when he says that hardly a day passes without his seeing one or more police officers, in uniform, going in or coming out of saloons in all parts of the city.

Should the statement be challenged, by the Police Board or city officials, he would be glad to take the number of any policeman he sees so doing.

We have often thought, in this same connection, that if the police went after the real crooks in dead earnest and stopped their persecution of innocent, or even suspicious Negroes, they would do much towards reducing the crime wave.

SPRING ELECTION

We are again on the verge of another Political Campaign. The first to be conducted under the new charter. Members for a new legislative body—The Board of Aldermen—will be selected. The House of Delegates and Council will pass out of existence and a single body of twenty-eight members will control municipal affairs.

We must help to make this initial body a success and a monument of future pride by selecting the best men available. Of those who have filed or intend to file, one candidate deserves mention at this time. Nicholas Polito, Supt. in the street department, and 4th ward leader, has shown a fairness in dealing with the Negro that commands respect and installs confidence in him. The fifty or more Negroes who owe their employment to him will form a strong advance squad to lead his large army of followers to victory this spring.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Sumio Uesugi, the Japanese missionary, will be the speaker at the Sunday afternoon Men's meeting at Douglass Hall, January 17. Mr. Uesugi will speak on Japan. He will speak in his native costume. Mr. I. A. Knox, a prominent attorney of Kansas City, will probably be in the city on Sunday and will tell the men at the meeting how Kansas City was able to secure their magnificent Association building. The Y. M. C. A. Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Elmer Keeton, will render music for this occasion.

Dr. John W. Day, who was the speaker for last Sunday, made a powerful address on "Living With One's Self."

The Board of Managers takes special delight in the fact that the Association Building is becoming the meeting place for many organizations. Among the groups that are using the Association as a meeting place are: The Postal Clerks' Alliance, the Alliance of Insurance Men, The Board of the Wayman Free Clinic Settlement Association and the new Building Loan Association, which is just being named. The members of the city are coming to feel that the building really belongs to them as a good sign.

NEW ESTIMATE PLACES ITALY'S DEAD AT 25,000.

Shook Most Severe Ever Recorded at Rome—200,000 Life-Area Devastated—Villages Levelled

Rome, Italy, Jan. 15.—The toll of dead and injured in the great earthquake that has swept over Central and Southern Italy has not yet been made up, but all advices reaching Rome indicate the over-growing extent of the disaster.

Towns with thousands of inhabitants have been overthrown and from some of these come details which show an immense loss of life. The estimate ran from 25,000 to 50,000 dead and injured, and yet there were several sections which undoubtedly felt the earthquake in full measure from which no estimates can be obtained.

According to the Rome Tribuna, it is estimated that the victims from the earthquake number between 23,000 and 25,000.

The victims of the earthquake at Sora alone number 1,000 dead and wounded.

In the ancient territory of Marsi, which includes Avezzano, the victims are placed at 20,000. Only a small minority is left of the inhabitants of Avezzano.

Fifteen other towns and villages in that section have been laid waste. King Victor Emmanuel is on the scene.

No reason for the earthquake has been dispatched to the various centers where the force of the disturbance was greatest.

The earthquake has arisen again to give succor, as he did at the time of the Messina earthquake, six years ago, to those who have fallen in this latest catastrophe.

GOV. COLE RESIGNS

Offer is Promptly Accepted by Senate. Has Paroled More Than 1,000 Convicts.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 15.—Gov. Cole I. E. Smith, whose term of office will expire Tuesday of next month, has resigned with the secretary of state.

The resignation, transmitted to the senate, was immediately accepted. Lieutenant-Governor Smith took the oath for the unexpired term.

Smith, who was the governor's action in his resignation, which contained only the words: "I hereby resign my office as governor of South Carolina."

Since Blaise became governor four years ago he has freed 1,674 prisoners. On Jan. 9 he issued full pardons to 200 convicts. He had previously had paroled. On Jan. 11 he signed an order disbanding the militia of South Carolina. He had stated that on the 10th of January he would free 75 remaining convicts in the penitentiary.

It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that Governor Smith was prompted to resign in order to avoid participation in the inaugural exercises attendant upon the induction of the new Governor, Francis Pickens, Jr. Just before resigning Gov. Blaise freed 25 more convicts.

SHERIFF SLEEPS IN PALACE

Patrick Calhoun Mansion, Awaiting Payment of $811.14.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 15.—Living in luxury, "Tom" Kane, deputy sheriff, who is installed in the million dollar marble palace of Patrick Calhoun, Calhoun and San Francisco traction and realty magnate, said that he liked the place and was ready to stay six months.

This, despite the fact that the deputy brought no luggage with him, not even a toothbrush. Kane was a "change" of any kind. He celebrated his first day in the Calhoun mansion on Derbyshire road, Euclid 20, and continued through the day with a little dinner of mallow duck, mashed potatoes and French peas.

Kane will remain there until Calhoun, now in New York with Mrs. Calhoun, arranges for payment of a judgment of $811.14 obtained against him by the city of Cleveland. The account by Albert Rees Davis, insurance agent.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON

LESSON FOR JANUARY 17

THE CALL OF GIDEON

LESSON TEXT—Judges 6:11-24, 26-40, read entire chapter. GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord. Ps. 125:1.

We have before us now the fourth apostasy and servitude of Israel, one which seems to have affected chiefly the four northernmost tribes (v. 35).

In preparation for the call and work of Gideon, the story is told of the children of Israel cried out to heaven, and God sent unto them a prophet who encouraged their flagging faith in Jehovah and turned them back to him (6:1-10). The now impoverished and overladen Israelites, who had enjoyed prosperity after their former deliverance, had again fallen into evil and must first judge their sin and obey the voice of Jehovah before they could receive a message of hope and deliverance through the agency of God's prophet.

God's Call to Gideon.

I. Gideon in Prayer, vv. 11-13. That the "angel of Jehovah" was a manifestation of the Lord is clear from a careful reading of verse 13. There the first use of the word "Lord" is not capitalized, whereas in a second instance it is capitalized. This angel was a foreshadowing of the incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth. He is clearly identified with Jehovah (see Judges 1:1; 2:1; Gen. 22:12, 15, 16, 17). It was thus that Abraham saw "my day" (John 8:56). "The angel of the Lord" now appears after Jesus came, as the same text is given. The Lord made Midianites brought ruin to Israel as the bitter fruit of its sin. Then he entered the cry for relief (Ps. 130).

The father of Gideon was a poor man, but he was a worshiper of Baal (v. 35). They who bear the vessels of the Lord, even when poor, must be true to God's call. God's call to Gideon came to him (1) while he was alone, as he was threshing wheat in the hiding place of a winnowing, for he dare not thresh in the customary open place of a threshing floor. This call came to him (2) as he was faithful in performing his duty, that one nearest his hand (v. 11, Ex. 3:1; Luke 2:8, 9).

II. Gideon in Doubt, vv. 15-16. Gideon's thought must have been one of amazement at the call of the Lord. His question, "Why then is all this befalting me?" was a most natural one and one which every man is asking when he is in great trouble, suffering and misery are not all to be laid at God's door, though he permit it, but in the end of the day, the Lord is the one who is the cause of all his natural qualifications, and with the emphasis upon the "I"—"I do in my might . . . have not I sent thee?"

Gideon Was the Agent.

III. Gideon Assured, vv. 33-35. Gideon's first act on being assured of his heavenly communication was one of worship (v. 17-35). His second one was to take ten picked men and overthrow the altar of Baal, thereby demonstrating the impotence of Baal and the futility of calling upon him for deliverance. The tribesmen at once followed him, for he had performed a great act and demanded his death from Josiah, his father, who seems to have been a sort of caretaker of the idol.

Gideon's enthusiastic followers (v. 34, 35). Gideon thus translated theory into action and gained confidence. It was one man against the community, and to further rebuke them he erected an altar to Jehovah (v. 28).

IV. Gideon's Caution, vv. 36-40. Gideon's first act on being assured of his heavenly communication was one of worship (v. 17-35). His second one was to take ten picked men and overthrow the altar of Baal, thereby demonstrating the impotence of Baal and the futility of calling upon him for deliverance. The tribesmen at once followed him, for he had performed a great act and demanded his death from Josiah, his father, who seems to have been a sort of caretaker of the idol.

BAISED LAMB WITH BARLEY

Simple but Appetizing Dish. Family

Approved. When Family

Members are Dining

Two pounds of lamb from shoulder, two cups of meat barley, one small cannellini, one cup of tomatoes (canned), salt and pepper to taste.
Have the butcher cut the meat into suitable pieces to serve, removing any unsightly edges or fat. Place a piece of meat in a deep skillet and as soon as hot put in the meat and let it sizzle enough water to cover, then simmer slowly for half an hour. Now stir the barley into the liquid, cut the onion into slices and add on top of meat, then pour the tomato over. Cover and let simmer for about two hours. See from time to time that barley does not settle or liquid boil off. Toward last, season to taste. Try not to mash the meat and barley. When meat is tender the barley will be soft and pul-py. Serve on platter with onion, a casserole, surrounded by barley, and pour the tomatoes and onions over with just enough of the liquid to moisten, or if gravy is liked the gravy may be thickened with a little dissolved flour.
If need be a little more hot water may be added during the cooking.

WITH FLAVOR OF BANANA

Omelet That is Somewhat Different
From the Kind Ordinarily Served.

To make a three-egg banana omelet, separate the yolks and whites of three eggs and beat each separately. It is easier to manage if one of the whites is left out. Beat the whites to a stiff froth and season with a pinch of salt and a pinch of sugar.

In the morning have in the frying pan over a gas burner, turned down almost to its lowest place, two tablespoons of sugar spread over the bottom, except toward the outer inch, and on top of this one banana cut in very thin slices.

As the sugar commences to boil and the banana to brown, lift from under and turn each slice of banana. After this has cooked a little on the turned side, pour in the beaten yolks, and prick them while they are cooking. The difficulty is in keeping the sugar from burning.
Just before the yolk is put to cook some butter may be added, about a teaspoonful, but if carefully handled, this will not be needed. The difficulty is in keeping the sugar from burning.
If just caramelized, it is delicious.

Care of Brass.
All brass beds, brass handles and hardware used on furniture are lacquered to keep them from oxidizing.
The lacquer is rubbed, the longer it will last. If a good brass bed is wiped off frequently with a perfectly clean, soft piece of cheesecloth no polishing will be necessary. When the lacquer does wear off and the brass becomes dull, the proper thing to do is to send it to a good factory to be rebuffed and relacquered. Once in a while a brass bed may be wiped with a soft sponge wet with slightly soapy water, wiped again with clean water and dried immediately with soft cheesecloth or a very fine piece of chamois skin.

If you drop acid on your clothes the immediate application of ammonia will prevent damage.

Homemade Washer.

To wash heavy things such as quilts and comforters often means much back-breaking lifting. One housekeeper ingeniously devised a method of lightening her difficulties.
When she had put her heavy pieces into the tub and soaked them well, she took an ordinary large pail and made use of it for a suction washing. She pushed it, upside down, on the things, thus drawing the soapy water through them. When they were clean she lifted them, without exerting any strength, and poured fresh water over them to rinse them. This made them as clean, she found, as if she had tumbled herself out with rubbing them.

Pot Roast.

Here is my pot roast: Into a basin put a layer of sliced onions, one of sliced potatoes and a layer of chopped or sliced cold mutton or lamb (end of roast is best). Continue until full.
Now add salt and a red pepper. Now cover top with potatoes cut in halves, which will roast a pretty brown. Sometimes I use a porker and the same way, only add a little sage to flavor.

A Pastry Tip.

To prevent the fruit juice running over in the oven when making pies, sprinkle a little carbonate of soda over the fruit before the top crust is put on.
This prevents the juice from running over and also lessens the acidity of the fruit, so that it will not require so much sugar to sweeten it.

Dresden Chocolate Crumbs.

Mix one cupful stale bread crumbs with one-half cupful chocolate, two tablespoons of sugar and one-fourth teaspoonful salt. Put in dish, bake in moderate oven until chocolate is melted and the crumbs thoroughly heated.
Serve with whipped cream.

When Bottling Pickles.

An excellent way to make pickling liquor is to bottle straight liquor for bottling and put them into the bottles while hot. When cold they will seal themselves tightly.

FOR THOSE FOND OF CANDY.

Excellent Homemade Confections as Good as Any That Can Be Purchased.

The following uncooked candies are excellent and not difficult to make: To make four loaves or one dozen of the candies, do not heat but drip the whites of two eggs into a small griddle, pan. Stir into this gradually, until it is thick enough to make any cream fondant, confectionary sugar. Use a wooden spoon when stirring. Mix in a few drops of flavoring. Lay the cream on a piece of waxed paper or a smooth board, over which you have sprinkled some of the sugar. Work it for a few minutes. Divide the cream into three or four rolls. If it is too thick to work easily, a few drops of milk or water will make it soft enough to mold. With this cream as a foundation many fancy candies can be made.

Fruit coloring is oranges or strawberry can be used, and makes a very pretty candy. Dates stuffed with the cream in several loaves are good. Chop a few dates and figs together and work into the cream. Roll out and cut in half-inch pieces. Roll some cream out flat, cut in square pieces and fold in each piece a California grape. Roll some cream into little balls and press English walnuts, pecans or almonds into them. Work some coconut in some cream, but when cutting be careful to do it quickly, as the candy will not look neat otherwise. Soak some raisins in warm water and cover with cream.

Soak some prunes overnight in cold water, then remove the stones, crack these and run the kernels through the food chopper, adding finely chopped nut meats and chopped dates. Fill the cavities of the prunes with this mixture, close and dip in the fondant. When making wafers be careful to use only a very small amount of flavoring such as maple, cinnamon, allspice, orange, lemon, vanilla, strawberry, mint or peppermint. It will be too strong. After the cream has been rolled out with a rolling pin, use a small can lid to cut the wafers.

The Cheapest Kitchen Rack.

After failing to find just the kind of rack I wanted in my kitchen to accommodate numerous kinds of cooking utensils I devised the following which, for simplicity and usefulness, cannot be excelled and which also has the advantage of having cost not a cent.

Procuring a very strong cord, I fastened it securely across the inside of my kitchen closet door. This serves to hold the lid, which being of a high line variety, fits snugly into the improved rack as one could wish and it saves endless time in searching out the proper cover for pot or pan—Exchange.

A Few Cooking Tips.

That you stew a pound of prunes with pot roast and note the fine flavor imparted to the meat.

That a teaspoonful of lemon juice to a quart of water will make rice very white and keep the grains separate when boiled.

That salt will curdle new milk hence in preparing milk, porridge, gravies, etc., the salt should be added last after cooking.

That great improvement will be found in tea and coffee if they are served in glass preserve jars in place of tin boxes.

Stuffings for Poultry.

Melt two tablespoonsful of butter and add one tablespoonful of chopped onions, three cupfuls soft bread crumbs, chopped liver and heart, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful poultry seasoning and one-quarter of a tea spoonful of pepper. If a moist stuffing is desired add hot water to the above.

Tablecloths.

If you have a good supply of tablecloths don't keep just two to use all winter. Give each one of the whole supply a turn. They will wear better for this treatment as they will be in and wearing apparel, especially stockings.
